		Action for:
	Reporting on the 2023 survey The following points were noted: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The total number of completed surveys was similar in 2016 (2023 full surveys) and 2023 (approx. 1900 full surveys). The 2016 survey was mainly reported at NI level (with some LGD data where possible). The 2023 data will also mainly be reported at NI level. • The HCS team will look at what can be reported at LGD level. Recodes and combining of categories will be done where appropriate to facilitate reporting at LGD level. • Confidence intervals will be checked. In instances where they are high, the data will not be released. Information about this will be provided in the user information section of the report. • Caveats will be included in the report if required. 	HCS team
	Planning for the next survey The group discussed the need to plan for the next survey to ensure that full-time working of surveyors and supervisors can be facilitated. An option is to outsource the recruitment process. This would mean an additional cost but may be more cost-effective overall.	HCS team
